Principles of Operations Management Seminar

Presenters: Shridhar Bhat, CPIM, PMP & Tod Schwartz, CFPIM, CSCP

Attending this seminar will give the individual a complete, basic understanding of how operations today is viewed as a set of interlocking business processes in the supply chain and not just as a random production system. How operations are designed, implemented, managed, and maintained within different manufacturing environments will be discussed. The attendee will walk away with improvements and optimization ideas they can apply upon returning to their own organization.

Topics will include:

- Processes and Operations
- Project Management
- Product Design and Development
- Process Design Strategies
- Total Quality Management
- Statistical Quality Control
- Process Improvement and Optimization
